Print-perfect drawing

This zebra might look complicated, but it's a lot easier if you do one step at a time. You don't even need any fancy striped colouring pencils.

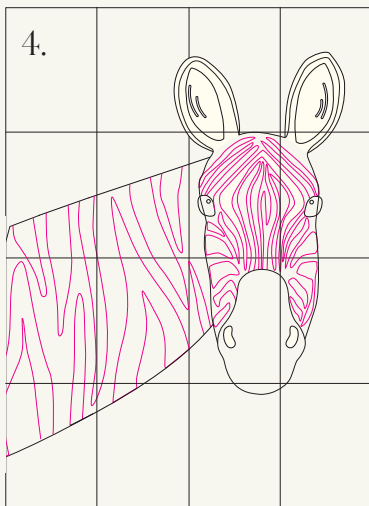

Draw the head and outline of the nose.

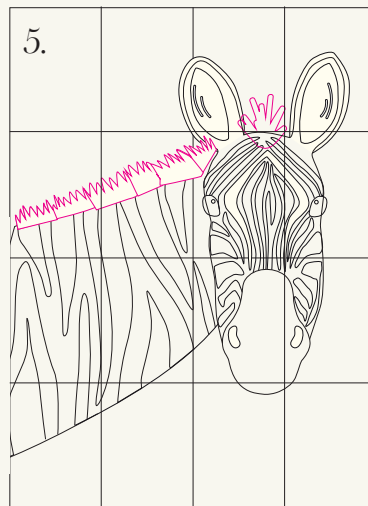

Add the neck.

Detail the eyes, nostrils and ears.

Make it STRIPY.

Add the mane.

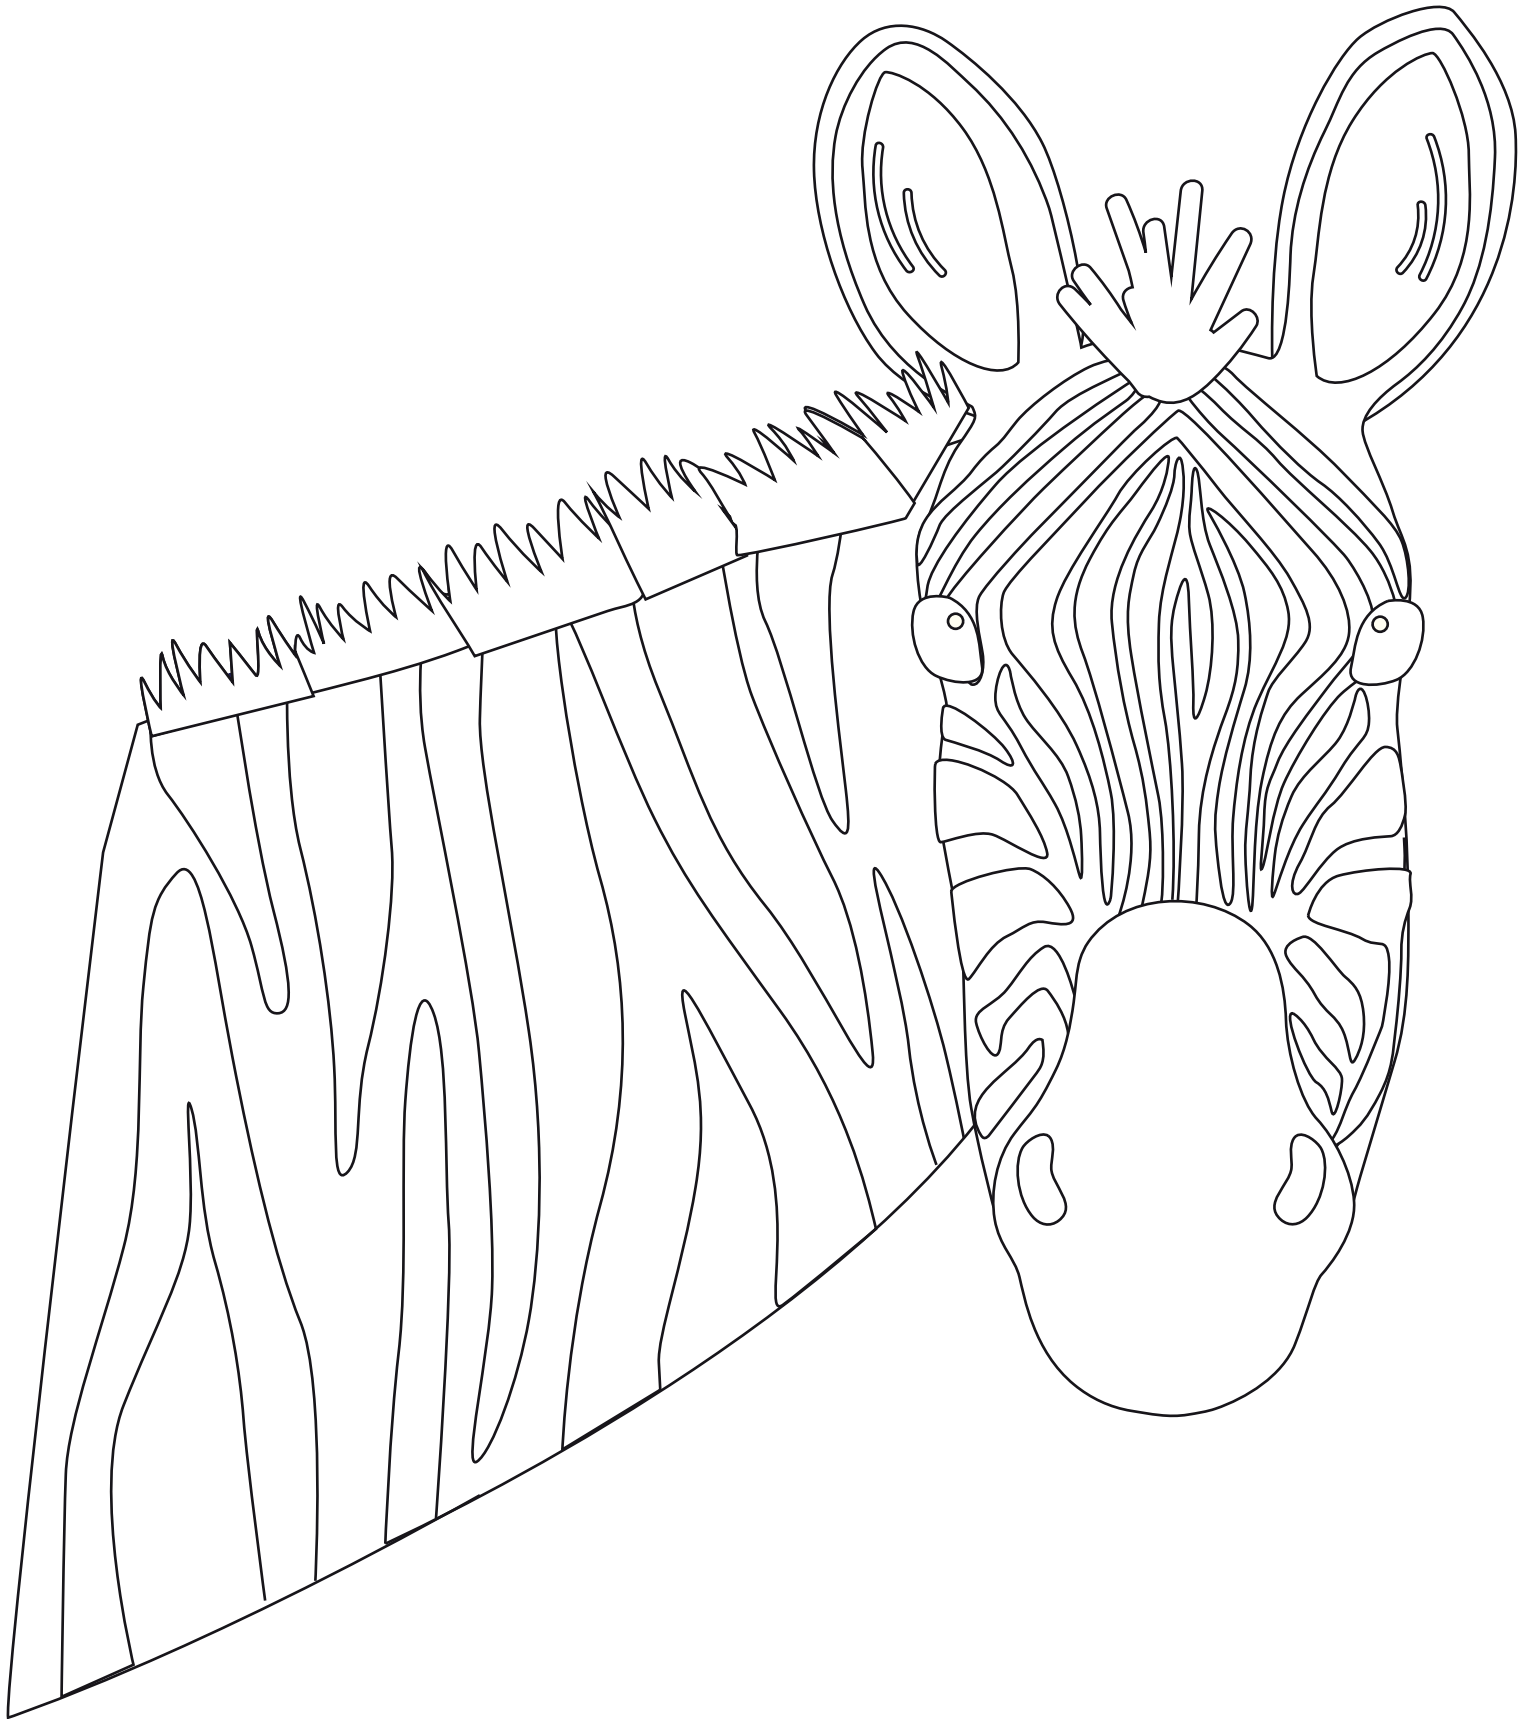

Give it some colour.

Now it's your turn. Use the grid on the following page to help you draw the lines in the right place.

Here's a big version of the finished zebra, in case you just want to get straight down to the colouring in.
